

Fiona Hall is currently the award leader on the education programme at Staffordshire University and teaches on the full and part-time BA Education course and full-time BA Early Childhood Studies course.

Fiona is currently studying towards a doctorate in education and her particular area of interest is around the effectiveness of HLTAs when taking whole classes.

From 2004 and 2014 she taught at a sixth-form college on part-time education and early childhood studies HE programmes as well as teaching on level 2 and 3 BTEC and NVQ courses.

During 2008-9 she worked at Sheffield Hallam University, part-time, preparing HLTA candidates, teaching on longer training route programmes and carrying out HLTA assessments; she continues to carry out assessments whenever possible.

Prior to her move to work in FE and HE, Fiona worked for several years as a primary school teacher.